PROGRAM

Fall 2023 Admission For this Major:

Transfer students who select this major on their College of Letters and Science (L&S) application and are offered admission to L&S will be directly admitted into this major.

If you are interested in this major, it is very important to select this major on your application, and complete as many lower-division major requirements as possible prior to transfer. See details on preparation for this major below.

The major in South and Southeast Asian Studies is a flexible, interdisciplinary program offering opportunities for both wide, comparative study of South and Southeast Asian cultures, literature, religion and history. Students may include in their major programs suitable courses from other departments.

PREPARATION FOR TRANSFER AT THE JUNIOR LEVEL

The major is a flexible, interdisciplinary program offering opportunities for both wide, comparative study of South and Southeast Asian cultures, literature, religion and history. The department teaches the following 13 languages: Bengali, Burmese, Filipino, Hindi, Indonesian, Khmer, Punjabi, Sanskrit, Tamil, Telugu, Thai, Urdu, and Vietnamese.

Students may include in their major programs suitable courses from other departments with approval of the faculty advisor and undergraduate advisor. There are prerequisites to declaring the major: one semester of language work with a grade of B or higher AND one lower division course, as listed below, with a grade of C or higher.

Students may establish first-year language proficiency through examinations administered by the Department (although passing an examination will not carry credit).
