Special Advising Note:

Transfer students are strongly advised to complete as many preparatory courses as soon as possible for their major before enrolling at UC San Diego. Preparing well for the major helps students move efficiently toward graduation.

The Jewish Studies Program is an interdisciplinary program offering courses, majors, minors, and concentrations in Jewish Studies which draw upon a variety of perspectives. Courses are offered in the Departments of Anthropology, History, Literature, Music, Political Science, Program for the Study of Religion, Philosophy, and Sociology.

The major requires twelve upper-division courses, comprised of three survey courses and nine elective courses, and proficiency in Modern Hebrew. Students may take three non-English language courses relevant to Jewish history and culture in lieu of second-year Hebrew upper-division courses. Students may test out of all or some of the Hebrew language series courses; those who need to take upper-division Hebrew to meet the language proficiency requirement may use the upper-division Hebrew courses to fulfill three of the nine elective courses required for the major.
