GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Admission to majors housed in the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences is selective based on GPA in all transferrable coursework, with a minimum GPA of 2.40 (This is a baseline GPA for consideration and not a guarantee of admission). Applicants with 80 semester/120 quarter units or more (e.g. a combination of 4-year and community college course work) are subject to additional screening. Although completion of the coursework listed below is not mandatory prior to admission, students are advised to complete as much lower division course preparation as possible prior to transfer. Completion of lower division coursework prepares students for upper division work at UCR and helps students move more efficiently towards graduation.

Liberal Studies is the major of choice for students interested in a major with a broad interdisciplinary scope. The Liberal Studies major includes a core of lower division courses designed to provide students with broad subject matter coverage to give them a foundation for a wide variety of careers and advanced degrees in professional schools of education, law, business, or medicine or academic programs toward doctoral study in the humanities and social sciences.

IGETC and General Education/Breadth Information

In addition to the lower division requirements listed below, students are also encouraged to complete the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum, "IGETC", while attending community college. Although completion of the IGETC is not a UCR admission requirement, it is a good program for students planning to transfer into majors housed in the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences. Information about completing IGETC is available at each community college. Students also have the option of completing the UCR CHASS breadth pattern, you may view the breadth requirements by visiting the 2022-23 Catalog, pages 80-81.
