Theater B.A.

IMPORTANT MAJOR INFORMATION

The School of Theater, provides a comprehensive introduction to the history, theory, and practice of these art forms within the context of a liberal arts education. Undergraduates in Theater study the history of world and American theater, contemporary theater issues, acting and performance, playwriting and analysis, design, directing, theater production, and complete a sequence of advanced courses in an emphasis along with a capstone project.

Applicants interested in the Theater major must choose one of the following emphasis on the UC Application: Acting, Design/ Production, Musical Theater, or Integrated Studies. Students interested in Directing or Playwriting should apply via Integrated Studies. In addition to the general UC Application, a supplemental application is required. This includes materials such as a headshot, writing samples, transcripts, resumes, etc. Applicants will be contacted ONLY if more information is needed and an interview/ audition will be required. Note: Transfer students cannot change to the Theater major after admission to UCLA. Additional information may be found at: www.tft.ucla.edu/theaterba.

Applicants to the school must have a minimum 3.2 GPA at the time of application and by the time of entrance must have attained junior standing (60 semester/90 quarter units) and have completed their general education coursework— either the school's GE requirements, the IGETC at a California community college, or the GE requirements while a student at another UC campus. Completion of the School of Theater, Film and Television's foreign language requirement before arriving at UCLA is strongly encouraged but not required. In addition to the UC application, applicants are required to submit a supplemental application.

Transfer students cannot change to the Theater major after they transfer to UCLA.

Recommended preparation for the major: Acting, Design, Play Analysis, and Theater History.
